

WOW! What a wonderful Grandparents Day!

Please extend my gratitude to your family members who were able to join us yesterday. Our church was full, and there was a lot of great energy in the classrooms as students shared class work, letters, interview questions, special drawings/pictures, technology demonstrations or school tours with their visitors. Thanks also to those who brought in treats or drinks.

If your child didn't have a grandparent here yesterday, don't worry. Several students were in the same boat, but we hoped that by just thinking about them, and sharing a treat in the classroom together, those students got to celebrate, too. We prayed for all our grandparents: Those with us yesterday, those at work or in their homes, and those whose home is with Jesus. I hope your child felt included.

Health News

- Our nurses are performing vision screenings this week and next. If a problem is found with your child's vision, you will be notified.
- We have had two cases of strep throat this week. Please remember to keep a close eye on contagious illnesses, especially those with fevers. Let us know your child's diagnosis so that we can watch for trends.
- Our school nurses are volunteers! Did you know that? Diane Brunner, Kathy Mosbaugh and Cathy Peters are all RNs who have retired from their positions and are giving back to our parish by volunteering in the school. Other principals in the area are so jealous of us! They alternate days and are here from 9-1. The nurses keep us up-to-date on all the required health screenings, monitor the recesses with band-aids at the ready, and advise us regarding any health concerns. They are a tremendous help to us and the children love them! Be sure to thank them whenever you get a chance.

FROM PTO: Magazine Drive Update There were lots of "little books" in the main office yesterday morning! Thanks so much taking care of that first step. In case your flyer got lost in transition, you can find a copy HERE. This year's premiums are handled a little differently. This year EVERY order = an emoji key chain (collect all 12!), and there are incentives at 3, 6, 9, 12, and 16 orders, too. The kids are very excited!
