

I told your child something today!

As is my custom, we had an end-of-year assembly today and "moved up" into our bleacher assignments for next year, making room for next year's kindergartners, and acknowledging changes in our staff. Although the list below is subject to (possible) change based on new additions to our teaching staff, here is the current plan for next year's homeroom classes:

Kindergarten - Sr. Judy Crooker
First Grade - Ms. Julie Selm
Second Grade - Mrs. Robin Cayton and Mrs. Jennifer Muhlenkamp
Third Grade - Mrs. Jennifer Duffey
Fourth Grade - Mrs. Chris Alvey and Mrs. Erin Schooley
Fifth Grade - Mrs. Megan Mattei and Mrs. Carolyn Roesel
Sixth Grade - Mr. Matt Brunner and a teacher to be hired
Seventh Grade - Mr. Wally Shaffer
Eighth Grade - Mrs. Heather Proffitt

As mentioned in last week's newsletter, I am in the process of hiring a science teacher for grades 5-8 and a part-time language arts teacher. Since that publication, I have received three new resumes. Please continue to mention our openings to teachers you trust!

I will be sending out a summary list of all our award winners by the end of the week and will continue to send our school community updates as needed throughout the summer, especially once all the teaching assignments have been finalized. Until then, see you at our festival!

God bless you all this summer,

~Mrs. I

On a personal note, I hope to travel to the Holy Land from June 17-27 with School of Faith. I have been nursing a bruised bone/stress fracture, so please keep me in your prayers that I am able to travel well and absorb all I can from this amazing opportunity. School of Faith is a program dedicated to the faith development of Catholic school teachers. We will begin implementing this program next year with a small group of teachers and will expand it to the whole faculty for 2019-2020. This trip is related to that future study of our faith and the spiritual growth of our teachers.
