

Forecast is threatening, and then there's the Super Bowl.

The forecast for Thursday and Friday this week looks pretty threatening. Freezing rain and ice, followed by possible sub-zero temperatures and snow could mean two consecutive snow days. After meeting with the faculty, this is our plan IF school is called off later this week:

Thursday 2/3 - If school is called off: Remote Learning. Students will bring their devices home Wednesday afternoon just in case the forecast plays out. They will need to log on Thursday for class meetings and/or instruction. Teachers will be compiling worksheets for younger students, too. CSW activity (Vocations presentations) will be postponed to a later date. If roads are icy, the skating party at 6:30 will probably be cancelled. We do not know if that can be re-scheduled.

Friday 2/4 - If school is called off: Snow Day. Teachers had not made lesson plans for our CSW Bowling Day, so we will not try to make Friday a remote day. Bowling/pizza will be rescheduled for sometime later this year.

If the storm passes us by, or allows us to be on campus, we will be in class, in person, and proceed with our CSW activities as planned.

Super Bowl Monday - 2/14 We know a lot of schools are calling off for this day so that families can stay up late and support the Bengals. Let's earn that day through some acts of love for causes near and dear to some of the Bengals players. (After all, it's Valentine's Day, right?) More details to follow, but know that we will be accepting items to support Boys and Girls Clubs (Mixon); Free Store Foodbank (Hubbard) and FURescues (Huber) from Monday, February 7 - Friday, February 11. House points will be earned and the house with the most donations will win an extra treat and extra points but must have a minimum of 300 points in total donations to earn the treat. Please be generous!
